Prayer Assembly - Primary

We Gather

Gather the assembled into quiet stillness.

We gather in this space to call to mind St Mary of the Cross MacKillop. Mary MacKillop founded the Sisters of St Joseph and together, she and they endured many challenges and overcame a lot of difficulties to establish schools across Australia. Today the work of Mary MacKillop and the Sisters lives on in Australia and Timor Leste, one of Australia's neighbours, led by an organisation known as Mary MacKillop Today.

Mary MacKillop Today run an education program part of which is known as the Mobile Learning Centre. This is a colourful bus that travels around, filled with toys, musical instruments, arts and crafts supplies, learning materials, and a team of enthusiastic teachers. It is like a school on wheels that travels to the students, rather than the students travelling to it. The mobile learning centre program is what Saint Mary MacKillop's work looks like in today's world.

Option 1:

Gospel: Matthew 6:25-34

Feast of Saint Mary MacKillop - 8 August

Read

A reading from the Gospel of Matthew:

I am telling you not to worry about your life and what you are to eat, nor about your body and what you are to wear. Look at the birds in the sky. They do not sow or reap or gather into barns; yet your heavenly Father feeds them. Are you not worth much more than they are? And why worry about clothing? Think of the flowers growing in the fields; they never have to work or spin: yet I assure you that not even Solomon in all his royal robes was clothed like one of these. Now if that is how God clothes the wild flowers growing in the field will he not much more look after you? So do not worry; do not say, "What are we to eat? What are we to drink? What are we wear? Your heavenly Father knows you need all these things. Set your hearts on his Kingdom first, and all these other things will be given you as well. So do not worry about tomorrow: tomorrow will take care of itself.

The Gospel of the Lord.

Praise to you, Lord Jesus Christ.

Option 2:

Read and/or act out a picture book about Mary MacKillop.

Some suggestions include Meet Mary MacKillop by Sally Murphy, St Mary MacKillop: Beneath a Cross of Stars by Andrew Chinn and Jill McLaughlin RSJ, St Mary MacKillop Friend of Jesus by Judith M Steer RSJ, The Gift of Mary MacKillop by Colleen O'Sullivan RSJ

We Respond

Reflection Option 1

Reflect

Prayer reflection.

Use the following sentence stems for children to either prepare a reflection prior to the assembly or create one as the sentences are read out.

Mary used her eyes...

Mary used her ears...

Mary used her voice...

Mary used her hands...

Mary used her feet...

Mary used her heart

As each sentence starter begins, invite the students to prayerfully place their hands on their eyes, ears and lips. Encourage them to look at their hands, their feet and then place their hands over their heart.

We Respond

Reflection Option 1 - cont'd.

OR

Use this example, again inviting the students to prayerfully place their hands on their eyes, ears and lips. Encourage them to look at their hands, their feet and then place their hands over their heart, as each new stanza is read.

Mary used her eyes

- To see families in need
- To see children who couldn't go to school
- To find an unused stable that could become a school.
- To see other women wanting to help
- To watch the children in her care

Mary used her ears

- To hear people's stories
- To listen to children read
- To hear children laughing
- To listen to God's Word

Mary used her voice

- To teach reading, writing and maths
- To speak out against injustice
- To talk to her sisters
- To pray to God

Mary used her hands

- To write letters to her family
- To write on the blackboard
- To help those in need.

Mary used her feet

- To walk around the school
- To travel around Australia
- To ride a horse as a child.

Mary used her heart

- To love and care for others.

Read

St Mary of the Cross MacKillop used her eyes, her ears, her voice, her hands, her feet and her heart to reach out to those in need. She asked God to guide and help her. Let us turn and ask God to guide us to see, to hear, to speak, to do and to love those around us. We do this by praying the words that Jesus taught us.

Our Father...

Reflection Option 2

Read:

Mary MacKillop was a great letter writer. Imagine she wrote this letter, telling you all about her life.

My Dear Friends,

When I was small my parents lived in a large house in Melbourne, but we had to move when my father lost his job. We moved to a farm near my grandparents' home.

It was often difficult to go to school. When we couldn't go, my father would teach us. There were many of us. I have seven brothers and sisters. We all grew up loving God and each other, even when times were hard. When I was eight years old, I was able to attend a school run by Miss Kane. It was wonderful. I loved to read and write.

By the time I was fifteen years old, I went to work so that I could help my family. My first job was as a governess and I loved it. It was one of the jobs I had that prepared me for what was to come. I also worked in a printing press shop, which I really didn't like, but it helped me too.

Many years ago now, in 1866, five years after I met Fr Julian Tenison Woods I received a letter from him asking me to be the first teacher in a school in Penola, South Australia. I accepted and my sisters Annie and Lexie joined me. My brother John was a carpenter, just like Jesus was, and he converted an old stable into a school. Imagine that, Jesus was born in a stable and our first school was once a stable! That was pretty special. I still thank God, for those early years.

Throughout the years, I had many young women who wanted to help me when I saw a need. Teachers and women who could travel across the country and teach children whose families couldn't afford to send them to school. We opened many schools across Australia. If we saw a need, we went there

I, and the other women became known as the Sisters of St Joseph. We couldn't have done what we did without God's help. We prayed together every day. When we all ended up in different parts of Australia, I either visited them or wrote letters, just as I am writing to you.

I pray that what we have started will continue. Children all around Australia need our help. They might need yours one day too. I hope you will help them. Let's pray for each other.

All my love,

St Mary of the Cross MacKillop

If you were to write back to Mary, I wonder what you would tell her and I wonder what needs in the world you would tell her about.

We Go

Pray.

St Mary of the Cross MacKillop loved God and she prayed every day for God to help her to be the best person she could be, loving and serving God and those around her. Today we are going to pray, just like Mary and we do so with our whole body.

(Quiet music begins)

Let us gently rub our hands together to make a soft sound and create some warmth. Now let's place them over our eyes.

May we look after our eyes and use them,
to see the beautiful world God gave us
to notice when our friends and family are sad and to notice those in need.

Let us now, gently cup our hands over our ears.
May we look after our ears and use them,
to hear our friends,
to listen when we are asked to do something and
to listen carefully to hear God's word

Let us now, softly place a finger to our lips.
May we use our words wisely and use our voice,
to stand up for others
to speak kindly and
to pray

Let us now, touch each of our fingers and thumbs together and then our palms.
May we carefully and mindfully use our hands,
to look after the earth
to learn and to help others

Let us now, wiggle our toes in our shoes and then bring them to stillness.
May we use our feet,
to walk carefully on the earth and
to go out of our way to help someone

Let us now, place our hands over our heart.
May we feel it beat steadily and use our heart,
to love all those we meet.

Amen
